OER Evaluation

⋰⋰ Content Criteria Rubric

This rubric is designed to determine whether open educational resources (OER) are valuable for instruction.

Source Name: Animotica Tutorial

	Superior	Acceptable	Poor	Notes
Source: Content is from a reputable source (e.g., scholarly, highly researched peer-reviewed, leaders in the field) and is known to be authentic.		✔		Because of screencast technology, the methods used to achieve the result are accurate and reliable.
Intent: Content is intended to inform and is not satire, propaganda, or other misleading influence.		✔
Bias: Content is free from implicit/explicit bias and prioritizes primary sources.		✔		Unless thinking kittens are cute is biased...
Time: Content is current or falls within the desired time frame considered relevant/ accurate to the subject.		✔
Licensing: Falls within the scope of the user's needs.		✔
Relevancy: Content is insightful and/or useful for the intended audience and does not stray from the intended focus.	✔			The features shown are relevant to any beginning user.
Ease of Use: Content is appropriate to the intended audience in format and reading comprehension or may be easily and legally differentiated to meet those standards.		✔		